

Tour of The Weather Network – August 14, 2018

On August 14, 2018, the CMOS Toronto centre organized a tour of The Weather Network in Oakville, Ontario, followed by lunch. Eleven CMOS members and an additional six from Environment and Climate Change Canada (retired and current) attended the tour.

Weather Network tour participants

Back row (left to right): Erik Buhler, Fred Conway, John MacPhee, Hannah Hori, Ken Devine.
Front row (left to right): Krysta-Lee Clifford, Maria Latyszewskij, Marie MacPhee, Bhaleka Persaud, Joan Klaassen, Amir Shabbar, Hans VanLeeuwen, Frank Demsey.
Other participants not in photo: Sharon Stone, Neil Comer, Heather Auld, Dave McCulloch.

John MacPhee (centre front), Environment and Climate Change Canada Manager of Aviation and Technical Training, explains specifications of the Weather Network's Nipher snow gauge. Tour participants from left to right: Ken Devine, Amir Shabbar, Frank Demsey, Bhaleka Persaud, Hannah Hori, Joan Klaassen, Erik Buhler and Neil Comer. Far rear: Dayna Vettese, Weather Network meteorologist and tour guide.

Standing (left to right): Tour participants Bhaleka Persaud, Joan Klaassen, Marie MacPhee, Fred Conway, Krysta-Lee Clifford, Frank Demsey, Amir Shabbar and Erik Buhler; Weather Network tour guides Christi Campbell and Jaclyn Whittal. Sitting: Weather Network staff.